This quotation is of significance because we had just visited Canada in July. Susan then used FootHuggers on her trip to Banff on a hiking expedition. Although we have heard from customers at shows that FootHuggers are great for hiking, this is our first email confirmation which included great photos. Thank you Susan!

"Sarah, I have been using FootHugger Socks while hiking and like them a lot! I especially like the fact that they are so easy to care for. The boot & sock photo was taken on Mount Cory. My picture was taken on Mount temple, the highest mountain in Banff Park.

-Susan"

Made in Minnesota Go USA!

Did you know that FootHugger Comfort Socks are all USA made?

They are! The fabric we use is made by Polartec LLC located in Lawrence, MA. Previously known as Malden Mills, they are the creators of Polartec fabrics - the most advanced performance textiles available today. They can keep you warm when it's cold, keep you dry when you sweat, even repel wind, rain, and snow to protect you from the elements.

We buy their fabric, ship it to Minnesota, where we make FootHuggers Socks. No China connection here. Even our thread is made in America!

CALGARY STAMPEDE

FootHuggers Travel to Canada

In July, we traveled to Calgary, Alberta Canada to participate in the Calgary Stampede. This event is known as "the greatest outdoor show on earth" and now I know why. Combine the very best that any state fair has to offer. Now add a rodeo, chuck-wagon racing, parades, special events all over town and you get the idea. The entire town of Calgary gets involved in the celebration of this event and it is incredible. If you have ever wanted to visit Canada, try to time your vacation to include the Calgary Stampede in Calgary, Alberta. It will be a memory of a lifetime!
